

GOLDMAN ANTONETTI & CÓRDOVA, P.S.C.
ATTORNEYS AT LAW

ALL CLIENTS AND FRIENDS:

I am writing to invite you to a free 90-minute webinar sponsored by the Employment Law Alliance entitled, “Hot Topics in U.S. Wage and Hour Law.” The attached announcement describes the program more fully, including the specific issues that the speakers will address.

You are welcome to share this invitation with as many of your colleagues as you want. Since registration is per site, only one person needs to register if you will be in the same room listening together. If you will be in different offices or in different locations, each person will need to register. You will listen to the webinar and view the PowerPoint slides via your computer, so please be sure you have that capability (links and instructions for downloading any software will be included in your registration confirmation).

As you may know, by virtue of our membership in the Employment Law Alliance, we have the capability and resources to handle all of your employment and labor law needs in every US state and in more than 125 countries.

One of the benefits we provide to our clients is free access to the ELA’s Global Employer Handbook. This one-of-a-kind online resource provides practical information on hiring and firing, pay and benefits and all other key employment and H.R. law issues throughout the world. If you haven't yet registered to use this service, I encourage you to do so. I know you will find it useful.

To register, please visit: www.employmentlawalliance.com; on the right side of your computer screen, under “Webinars,” click the link to register.

If you have any questions about the issues that will be presented or the details of registering, please let me know, or you can contact Linda Henderson at the Employment Law Alliance at: leh@employmentlawalliance.com. I strongly encourage you to take advantage of the opportunity to attend this program.

Sincerely,

Employers across the United States have been targeted by a tsunami of collective, class, and individual actions asserting a wide variety of claims under the Fair Labor Standards Act and state laws governing wage and hour issues. Smart employers must ensure that their employees are properly classified and compensated in order to minimize the risk of costly lawsuits. Once litigation is initiated, however, a variety of strategies can be used to help achieve beneficial outcomes and/or limit exposure. Leading labor and employment lawyers from across the country will share their expertise and experiences in how to prevent these disputes and effectively defend these lawsuits, with a particular focus on:

- Wage and hour audits and reclassification exercises – processes and pitfalls
- Litigating wage and hour disputes – collective actions, class actions, and individual claims
- Special off-the-clock issues
- New developments in the enforceability of arbitration agreements with respect to wage and hour claims
- Resolving wage and hour disputes in the most cost effective manner possible
- Complying with the wage and hour laws of multiple jurisdictions – special considerations for national employers
